

Bracken Fine Art

Portraits of People and Pets

Largely self-taught, Greg Bracken loves to draw anything and everything – although his particular talent lies in capturing the likeness and spirit of subjects both human and animal.

Born in 1958 in Elkhorn, Wisconsin, Greg spent his childhood in Walworth County. As a young man, Arizona, San Francisco, and Boulder became home for the next three decades. Today he lives near Appleton, Wisconsin.

Greg is the artist for the book, Simply Celebrate: 101 Ways to Turn Ordinary Days into an Extraordinary Life. He can create customized oil portraits or whimsical cartoon doodles for any occasion.

Capture the spirit of your furry, feathered, or human best friend.

❁ I was completely surprised and pleased by Greg's ability to capture the whimsical image I had in mind from the simple, generic description I provided. —Joe G

❁ Greg's done numerous paintings of beloved pets in our extended family and never fails to capture an animal's individual charm and character. Greg makes gift-giving a real joy. It's a no-brainer. Every gift's an original, an instant treasure. —Mary M.

Imagine a customized portrait of someone you love over your mantel, as if they're by your side, always.
